Peace Officers Research Association of California (PORAC) Endorses Congresswoman Grace Napolitano in CA-32 Primary

EL MONTE, CA – The Peace Officers Research Association of California (PORAC), announced today their endorsement of Congresswoman Grace Napolitano in her re-election campaign for California’s 32nd District. PORAC joins a growing list of support among community organizations who stand with the representative from the San Gabriel Valley.

“I am grateful to receive the support of PORAC, an organization dedicated to those who protect us,” said Napolitano. “In Congress, I have worked hard to be a voice for those who put everything on the line to keep us safe. That is why it an honor to have PORAC stand with me in my mission to fight for the residents of the 32nd district.”

The Peace Officers Research Association of California is a professional federation of local, state and federal public safety associations. It is the largest statewide public safety organization in the state representing 67,000 public safety members and over 915 associations. The organization advocates to represent and protect the rights and benefits of peace officers in communities across the state.

“PORAC prides itself on carefully scrutinizing the qualifications of every candidate,” said PORAC President Michael Durant. “Congresswoman Napolitano will continue to be an excellent representative for her district, especially in regards to the issues involving public safety. As public safety officers, we appreciate her willingness to keep the avenues of communication open and her concerted efforts to seek our input on issues involving public safety and law enforcement. These qualities make her truly deserving of the PORAC endorsement.”

Congresswoman Grace Flores Napolitano is a powerful advocate for Southern California on water resources, transportation, power generation, and dedicates considerable energy to mental health issues. The daughter of a Mexican immigrant who raised two children on a shoestring budget, Napolitano married at 18 and had five children by 23. She launched her first political campaign for city council where she served for seven years, two of them as mayor, before moving up to the California Legislature. Congresswoman Napolitano is currently serving her ninth term representing California's 32nd District, where she is the founder and Chair of the Congressional Mental Health Caucus. She is the Ranking Member on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee's Subcommittee on Water Resources and Environment and serves on the Natural Resources Committee's Subcommittee on Water and Power.
